

I can't believe this type of criminalbehavior can go on in corporate America. We stock holders believed what the XO officers were telling us and evidently they were lying. Some of us have lost a great deal of money, in some ways this deal is as crooked as Enron. Not as much money lost but more deception and the people in charge just so happened to be past employees of the company stealing my equity.